

Integrated whole-person care has been shown to improve patient outcomes and increase beneficiary satisfaction.

Are you looking for ways to better manage your patients with complex conditions by bringing together physical and behavioral health?

Are you struggling with an influx of patients needing behavioral health treatment and looking for effective ways to get them the care they need?

Is your practice preparing for MCO contracts or value-based payment arrangements?

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The District of Columbia's Department of Health Care Finance is managing a five-year program, known as the Integrated Care Technical Assistance (ICTA) Program. The ICTA program will enhance your practice's capability to deliver person-centered care across the care continuum; use population health analytics to address complex medical, behavioral health, and social needs; and engage leadership to support value-based care.

We are offering several options for participation, including:

- + Virtual learning community at www.integratedcaredc.com
- + Webinar sessions
- + Individual practice coaching
- + In-person Learning Collaborative (per public health recommendations)

Who should participate?

Individualized technical assistance offered by The Integrated Care Technical Assistance (ICTA) Program is available to all DC Medicaid providers, with a focus on the following programs and provider types:

- + Health Home providers (My Health GPS and My DC Health Home)
- + Department of Behavioral Health certified providers
- + Free Standing Mental Health providers
- + Long-term Services and Supports providers
- + Certified or Waivered Medications for Addiction Treatment (MAT) providers
- + Specialty providers
- + Federally Qualified Health Centers

For more information about the ICTA Program, please visit www.integratedcaredc.com and sign up for an upcoming provider information session.

Subject matter experts from Health Management Associates (HMA), a leading independent national research and consulting firm, will be providing the training and technical assistance. For more information about HMA, visit www.healthmanagement.com.

Disclosure: The Integrated Care Technical Assistance Program (ICTA) is managed by the DC Department of Health Care Finance (DHCF) in partnership with the DC Department of Behavioral Health (DBH). This project is supported by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) as part of a financial assistance award totaling $4,616,075.00 with 100 percent funded by CMS/HHS.
