

Supporting Practice Leaders Navigating Unfamiliar Waters: Leadership Through Change Learning Collaborative

Practice leaders face more decisions than ever as the District of Columbia works to build an integrated health system that delivers whole-person care. This structured learning collaborative will provide technical assistance and professional peer support to help organizational decision-makers better manage change within a dynamic health system. Activities and discussions during small group sessions will introduce ways that leaders can transform ingrained policies and practices using new information, tools, and approaches to achieve practical progress toward an integrated and financially sustainable model for improved care and outcomes.

WHO: Administrative, operational, financial, strategic, and clinical leaders in DC Medicaid practices and provider organizations.

WHY: To provide technical assistance and professional peer support and a structure to help your practice manage change and achieve practical progress toward an integrated and financially sustainable model for improved care and outcomes.

WHAT: Small groups each led by a subject matter expert will move through learning topics and use tools and strategies to achieve agreed-upon goals. Individual practice coaching available to participants.

WHEN: February–May 2024; combination of 6-8 virtual and in-person sessions.

Session Topics:

Managing Change Across the Organization: From Board to Front-Line Staff

Contracting for Value-Based Payments

Assessing the Performance Information Needed to Negotiate and Succeed in Value-based Payment Agreements

Designing Models of Care to Improve Outcomes

Joining, Building, and Utilizing Networks

Identifying Opportunities to Improve Population Health

Cohort Leaders:

Jean Glossa, MD,
MBA, FACP
Link to Bio

Art Jones, MD
Link to Bio

Josh Rubin, MPP
Link to Bio

Elizabeth Wolff, MD,
MPA
Link to Bio

If you have questions about the learning collaborative or application, please contact Samantha Di Paola, sdipaola@healthmanagement.com.

Apply Online Now!

Applications will be accepted until
Friday, February 2, 2024.

